Love Romance and Nihilism.

scheme a practical one, also made it fearfully dangerous, if things went wrong; for by this time, under the influence of several social factors, the French possible nihilism had been succeeded by terrorism. This was the great extent brought about by the Russian uprising; first three human hands all brands all over Europe, a number of these coming to Russia, and then sending them here to the torch and burn them—among them Hermann Margot.

One who has been kept all these years quiet as a child, and who even now, though ignorant, wears her hair in one long plaits, that falls down her back, after the fashion of the peasant girls of this province, and is in a somewhat abbreviated skirt, that shows but few ankles of purple, is a beauty—being scarcely a child, and just hardly a woman.

After order had been restored in France, this man came to Russia in search of his sister, bringing with him some curious news in regard to the fate of Auguste Dinitz.

These political troubles, Monsieur Dinitz was adding to put down in the good old-fashioned Tartar way, and having fought all of one village, men and women, and reported it as a crucial, an incipient outbreak, he received for this the title of Viallaur, and mounted and sat on the capital, where he now came to make the situation of the prince and his capital, all more desperate.

About this time, Vera Vasilevitch all Russia on fire by shooting down one General Trepoft; not as a militiaman, but as an angel of vengeance, who could not tamely see a police despot and torture a young student so unfortunate as to be a political prisoner in his autocratic clutches.

To the eternal honor of the State, she was acquitted by a jury of her countrymen. To the eternal disgrace of the Russian Government, it was the last trial they were to take place for many years.

This excitement at Platoff to think, "If our own Vera, with the same love of liberty as this Vera Vasilevitch, would but do some noble deed like her, then her estate would, after her death or banishment, come to me, only one-half of the other half to Dinitz! But Dinitz is a police official, like Trepoft, all if Ora were only Vera, who is exasperated, and Colonel Dinitz were but General Trepoft, with a bullet through him—then all would come to me!" This curious coming into his brain, Sergius Platoff, after a long conversation with the banker Lazard, thinks he will take a journey to Tula, to learn how it fares with his ward and her government.

Arriving there one winter night, he gets a surprise; for Mademoiselle de Brien rises from beside the great Russian stove, that is full of burning briars, dressed in the black of deepest mourning.

A few minutes after, they changing is to be alone, he remarks upon this costume; and she says it is for her husband, dead five years before, at Ceyrene, and that her brother, Hermann Margot, has brought her the news from Paris. "Hermann has been several years in Russia, but he never found me till a few months ago. I have kept him here for you to give him some position on the estate, my dear prince," she murmurs, with a look that indicates she expects no refusal.

"All right, be so scientific, I believe, as I remember de Verno's—de Verno's letter right. You will excuse my recollecting the name accurately; it is some years since I received his epistle. We can make Monsieur Hermann steward, or superintendent, or something," replies Platoff, with a grin.

His grin is a short one; for at Moscow, he has seen the checks he has sold himself and himself. "What nonsense!" I'll never meet him again!" then goes on and tells the prince, in a few words of her husband's fate. The chemist, Hermann remained in all Russia; the athlete Lazard, becoming sear and early under prison rule, one day turned on a warden who had angered him, and below all could come, nearly strangled his keeper, for this he was promptly tried, and sentenced to the penal settlement of Ceyrene for life; there, in those hot, pestilential Odessa cane-fields, the prisoner fever came and struck the Alaskan down. "My husband's blood is on that Frenchman's head; and if I—But why threaten, when I'll never be able to perform?" she says; and swears giving way to tears, this young lady, to whom black is very becoming—being in fine contrast to her yellow hair and shining green eyes, then Platoff to go to bed, which he does.

Does; but, though very tired from his long journey, produced from his pocket, but took de Verno's letter; a little worse for age, and read it very carefully through once more. My thanks from the account it gives of Hermann, that the chemist may be of use to him, and knows, from the way the governess has looked at his ward this evening, that Mademoiselle de Brien loves her charge no better than she did when first she came there.

A few days after this, looking at one who has been kept all these years quiet as a child, and who even now, though ignorant, wears her hair in one long plaits, that falls down her back, after the fashion of the peasant girls of this province, and is in a somewhat abbreviated skirt, that shows but few ankles of purple, is a beauty—being scarcely a child, and just hardly a woman.

Prince Platoff matters: "The troll is ripe for plucking!" Soon after, he asks the governess to step with him into his study; there, he makes her a very serious proposition in regard to Ora.

Mademoiselle de Brien at first starts from him, pale and trembling, and mutters: "You must be mad. I shall not; but with fire, even I—"

"To change her. Think how you hate her, in some way she adds Monsieur de Verno is cranking your plans in plotting your brother and your husband in prison. Through this child your husband died. Eh?"

"She helped me—she—very little!" murmurs the governess. "But still you hate her. Tell me, and if we succeed, my little Mademoiselle Marguerite—" "You will be very rich!" asserts the lady. "And I?"

"For all that risk, you will have to be very—very" returns Lazard's widow. "All?" "What do you mean?" asks Sergius, surprised.

"I mean, if I am to be your slave, can you save my slave?" "How?" "I will give the prince. Don't talk in riddles!" "Then make me your wife—wife we share in Russia—then when Monsieur le Prince is rich with the spells that in the course of a year the balance of your watch sinks 157,768,000 revolutions?

THINK OF IT

The oil collects fine particles of dust, which wear the delicate jewels, if not removed.

To remedy this, have your watch cleaned and oiled once a year and it will never wear out. Any other machine would wear out in a very short time if you did not oil it.

The oil collects fine particles of over 20 pieces in a year. It disperses all our work in the highest order, fully guaranteed and warranted the lowest cost.

FIMELY TOPICS.

Wonderful how extravagant some people are. Lots of Philadelphia are wearing a rabbit ear hat. They think they will make it make Turkish cigarettes with it.

The landscape still continues to be spotted with dead deer, victims of the poisoner. Somebody must have had a particularly nice pair of pants torn some way a time.

The order which comes from the unannounced backyard these days would never be mistaken for lions of the Nile. Clean up, everybody, before the warm weather comes, or malaria fever may lay by the heels.

There are the mornings when the average housewife thanks her husband thanks to old Adam for bringing work into the world. With the exception of having a physical ailment attached to each foot the industrious citizen's daily duties to his employer.

To be sure, the city has, in recent years, been made more agreeable to accident by replacing wordy laws with plainness and the premium, would think should be paid. Whether it would be safe to go further than that would seem to be a question for the city's lawyers.

TIMELY TOPICS.

BEFORE AND AFTER.

St. Nicholas.

Before they had arthritis, Or rheumatism, or shingles, Or blackheads, acne and spots— When they could only talk.

Before Columbus came to show The world geography, What did they teach the little boys (Who went to school like us)?

There wasn't any grammar then, They couldn't read or spell, For books were not invented yet, I think 'twa just as well.

There were not any laws of date, Or laws, or wars, or klags, Or generals, or viceroys, Or any of those things.

There couldn't have been much to learn, There wasn't much to know— There was to be a little boy, Ten thousand years ago!

For history had not begun, The world was very new, And in the schools, I don't see The children had to do.

How always there is much to learn— How history does grow— And every day they learn things, They think we ought to know.

And if it went on like this, The glad I live to-day, For boys ten thousand years from now, Will not have time to play!

Elephant Hunt Announced.

Do Moines, Ia., April 10.—"Tom," the elephant in the winter quarters of the Yankee Robinson Circus, was smothered Thursday night and setting the house, Chicago, Illinois, bursted him high into the air and put, stamped his feet. The excited beast then ran through the animal park, trampled the crowd, destroyed circus wagons and demolished a bridge across a ravine. Forty bullets were shot into the elephant before he was subdued.

Explosion Week Building.

St. Louis, April 10.—A serious explosion occurred yesterday morning in a four-story house on Berge Pl. street, near St. Peter. Twenty persons were wounded, some severely, and a portion of the building was destroyed. All four floors collapsed. It is thought that some dynamite, stored in the house by burglars, for illegal sale, exploded accidentally.

TELLS HOW TO CURE.

Catarrh in almost every instance starts with a common cold, which, when added to with another cold, and becomes a chronic catarrh of the nose or weakness of the system, it is a full cure of discharging nasal and throat catarrh, their diseases. Under a red net cure is effected through the nasal passage right to the throat, bronchial tubes and finally to the lungs.

No man or woman can ever get any more than this cure. It is the cure of a new nose; but every sufferer from this disease will find the sure cure by inhaling Catarrhinase, and this is the power that you need further.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

The ORIGINAL Remedy that "Kills the Dandruff Germ"

Dandruff, with its consequent hair injury and hair loss, is now known to be a highly contagious skin disease. It is caused by an inviolable growth of vegetable character that finds lodgment in the sebaceous glands of the scalp. This growth disturbs the function of the sebaceous glands, causing excessive oiliness or extreme dryness of the hair. It also sets up an inflammation process that extends down the follicle to the papilla, where the sebaceous are loosened and the hair slips out. The value of Newbro's Herpicide in such cases is quite extraordinary. Its intelligent use will correct every condition short of chronic baldness and thus permit the hair to resume its natural lustre and sheen.

NEW SYSTEM NEEDED
Col. Merritt Discusses Patriotic Military Service at Toronto

Late Colonel of Governor-General's Body Guards Declares That Time Has Come For a Regeneration of the Canadian Militia
The Canadian system of militia is being brought up to date. The late Colonel of the Governor-General's Body Guards, Mr. Merritt, has been invited to discuss the subject at a meeting of the Canadian Militia Association, which will be held at the Hotel Windsor, Toronto, on Monday night, April 13th. The speaker will discuss the need for a regeneration of the Canadian militia, and will point out the many defects of the present system. He will also discuss the need for a more patriotic and efficient militia, and will suggest many reforms which he believes are necessary for the improvement of the Canadian militia.

What strikes an average Canadian citizen is the fact that the militia is the only organization in the world which is not a part of the government. It is a voluntary organization, and its members are not paid. This is a great disadvantage, and it is one which must be remedied if the militia is to be of any use to the country. The speaker will discuss the need for a more patriotic and efficient militia, and will suggest many reforms which he believes are necessary for the improvement of the Canadian militia.

On the south wall of the armory is a high clock one hundred feet high, which is the tallest clock in the world. It is a masterpiece of clock-making, and it is a great attraction to the public. The clock is made of brass, and it is decorated with many beautiful designs. It is a great work of art, and it is a great attraction to the public.

Winipeg, Man., April 12.—Over 2000 men in Canada in new heavy machine guns. The Canadian militia is being brought up to date. Willard Campbell Waxes Indignant at Library Association.

Poet is Unspurring in His Denunciation of Debasing Influences in Literature Creeping Into Modern Canada's Libraries—Says George Meredith is Decadent and Immoral—Backs Sir Walter Scott.

Willard Campbell, a well-known poet and literary critic, has written a scathing attack on the Library Association, which he believes is doing harm to Canadian literature. He says that the association is promoting decadent and immoral literature, and that it is doing this at the expense of the great works of the past. He backs Sir Walter Scott as a model of literary excellence, and he says that the library should be a place where the best of literature is kept and where it is made available to the public.

Mr. Campbell's attack on the Library Association has caused a great deal of discussion. Some people agree with him, and they say that the library should be a place where the best of literature is kept. Others disagree with him, and they say that the library should be a place where all kinds of literature are kept, and where it is made available to the public.

CIVIL SERVANTS' LEADER.

John Lambert Payne Has Played

Many Parts In His Time.

The man prominent in the recent organization of civil servants at Ottawa and led the fight against the measure—in fact, the head and shoulders of the whole movement—is John Lambert Payne, commissioner of railways. He is a man who has compiled a long and interesting career in the railway department.

At the course of his life and he is long way past from being over the years, more than 40 years old. He began his career in 1868, when he was a clerk in the office of the late Sir John A. Macdonald. He was a member of the late Sir John A. Macdonald's cabinet and he was a member of the late Sir John A. Macdonald's cabinet.

Mr. Payne was one of the most prominent of the late Sir John A. Macdonald's cabinet and he was a member of the late Sir John A. Macdonald's cabinet.

But his country called him and away from the busy haunts of the newspaper men went Mr. Payne. He was secretary to Sir John A. Macdonald, then he was secretary to Sir John A. Macdonald, then he was secretary to Sir John A. Macdonald.

One of Mr. Payne's early successes was the winning of a $100 prize offered by the Newmarket Weekly Chronicle for the best serial story written by a local author. He has since written a number of serials for the paper.

Canada's Bison Herd. Mr. Howard Douglas, Commissioner of Dominion Parks, who knows the bison herds as well as any man in Canada, states that there are now in the world about 2,000 bison, and that the animals are commonly called bison.

It will be remembered that last spring 500 bison were removed from the Pablo range in Montana and were removed to the Buffalo Park in Ontario.

Mr. Douglas has been in the spring are to be rounded up, and then taken one by one to the nearest railway station.

Gorgeville Was Re-elected. Gorgeville is not a "pro-buffalo" exactly, but it is a "pro-buffalo" in spirit, and it is a "pro-buffalo" in spirit.

Disease of Toronto. Toronto is within one of the most terrible Anglican dioceses in Canada, only Ontario and Prince Edward Island being more so.

Beauregard's Buildings. The fact that Lord Charles Beauregard has just given the four of the battlements in his own name is a very interesting fact.

IN SYDENHAM'S TIME.

Governor-General Was 58 Years Old

ing From Montreal to Kingston. The day after the arrival of the Governor-General in Canada when Lord Sydenham, Governor-General of Canada, was 58 years old.

At the southern border of Quebec the Canadian Pacific railway came across from Vermont, for the customs house amounted to very little in the Montreal market was nearer than any other large market in the world.

There was a common sight in those days of a steeple of a dozen or more churches, and the steeple of the church of St. John's was the tallest.

There were some of the conditions of the "good old times" and it was difficult to find a man who was not a "good old times" man.

KNOCKS CONNOR'S BILL

Premier Gives Black Eye to Proposed Power Measure.

After some debate Sir Wilfrid Laurier last night gave the bill of Mr. James Connors, to incorporate the Ontario & Michigan Power Co., a black eye.

After several hours talk on the bill, Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that the local government of Ontario was not prepared to support the bill, and that the bill was not a measure of the province.

Another feature of the bill was that it gave the Ontario & Michigan Power Co. the right to take over the power of the province.

The Premier said he had been told by Sir Wilfrid Laurier that the bill was not a measure of the province, and that the local government of Ontario was not prepared to support the bill.

The Sultan Ordered Out.

Abdul Hamid is Expected to Abdicate in Peace.

Turkish Ruler Was Reported to Have Left on a Warship and Excitement in Constantinople Was Intense, But Rumor Was Denied--Constitutional Forces Enter the Capital Without Meeting Any Resistance.

Constantinople, April 20.--The most important feature of the situation in the afternoon, Mr. Lencow said, was the report that Sultan Abdul-Hamid had fled to the island of Rhodes.

The abdications of Abdul-Hamid, however, appears not to be improbable, as it is believed that within a few days the constitutional forces of the Sultan, the eldest son of the late Sultan, will enter the capital.

The general opinion is that it is not probable that the Sultan will be brought back, his overthrow and the establishment of a constitutional government will be accomplished peacefully.

At the outbreak of the revolution, the quarter was reported to be a scene of confusion, but in the afternoon, the quarter was reported to be a scene of confusion.

Something Original—that's the cry of every buyer of printing

If every print shop could or would work character into their product there wouldn't be so much common place printing.

We'll be glad of an opportunity to prove to you that when your printing is placed with us there will be character to it.

Our new type faces will do all that, alone, but there'll be more than up-to-date in type faces. There will be care taken in the arrangement of the type—good ink will be used—the proper class of paper will be selected, and if it requires illustrating we'll see that suitable cuts are used.

There are certain things the proper class is possible to say about one's self. For instance, your character, the esteem you hold for your business, your integrity—these are things that can not be advertised. But you can advertise the character of the work you do. The use of good business stationery.

You may be interested in our samples. May we show them?

BRIGHTEN UP YOUR HOME

Something Original--that's the cry of every buyer of printing.

¶ If every print shop could or would work character into their product there wouldn't be so much common place printing.

¶ We'll be glad of an opportunity to prove to you that when your printing is placed with us there will be character to it.

¶ Our new type faces will do that alone, but there'll be more than up-to-dateness in type faces. There will be care taken in the arrangement of the type—good ink will be used—the proper class of paper for the work will be selected, and if it requires illustrating we'll see that suitable cuts are used.

 O dewy flowers that bloom and fade away

THIS DAY IN HISTORY.
 Daniel Defoe died, 1731.
 Fire in Ottawa and Hull, 1900.

TIMELY TOPICS.

It seems, somehow or other, that people these days, are compelled to wear their hats at the wrong end of the waist.

Mark how history repeats itself: Yesterday's sermon, preached to the local Oldfellows, was, in the opinion of many of the members, the best sermon they ever heard. Which seems rather a queer thing, when you consider the annual 100,000 sermons that have been preached. Which, likewise, makes a fair lot of preachers we have in Bellville.

If you see a young fellow these days wearing a careworn look and a necktie that has picked out for him, it's a safe bet that he'll be a Zum bridegroom. Unfailing sign.

About the largest letter of the alphabet is April, which four-litres an "april" month.

A new discovery has been made in the vicinity of the present of the local Oldfellows, which is the presence of the "april" month.

The New Brunswick Legislature has the honor to record as in favor of votes for widows and orphans, but why should the market value of the family be raised when the family is so small, especially as the wife would be sure to wear her hair and wanted her to - where it suited her.

The Humanitarian system man makes an awful job of it. The very Humanitarian system man makes an awful job of it. The very Humanitarian system man makes an awful job of it.

MUST HAVE A TROUSSEAU

An English Maiden Who Lost Her Betrothed by Waiting.

A few years ago in England I had a little maid, aged twenty-nine, who had been waiting for her betrothed for many years. "Are you engaged?" she asked me. "No," I replied. "In what situation I had advanced for it she was shortly to be married. I had not decided that I would prefer an engaged maid."

"Yes, madam," she answered me. "I have been waiting for my betrothed for many years. I have been waiting for my betrothed for many years. I have been waiting for my betrothed for many years."

"What good?" I asked. "The $500 to me, madam, I have been waiting for my betrothed for many years. I have been waiting for my betrothed for many years. I have been waiting for my betrothed for many years."

"And why must you have $500?" I asked. "For clothes and linen, madam."

"It is not necessary," I said. "I can tell you to buy all you need for $50, and that will leave you $450 for your maid for after marriage, or on a rainy day."

"No, madam," I said. "I know what is proper and becoming in a bride's dress and trousseau."

A few months later I found her weeping and sorrowful. "I have been waiting for my betrothed for many years. I have been waiting for my betrothed for many years. I have been waiting for my betrothed for many years."

"What good?" I asked. "The $500 to me, madam, I have been waiting for my betrothed for many years. I have been waiting for my betrothed for many years. I have been waiting for my betrothed for many years."

Last night, about 9 o'clock, four boys, ranging from 12 to 15 years of age, all residents of the city, had not only a thrilling experience, but a "narrow escape" from a watery grave. They were in a rowboat on the river, in the vicinity of the foot bridge, when they lost control of their craft and it was carried swiftly down the stream. At the lower bridge the boat, which was the center piece and upset, throwing the occupants into the cold, icy water. Fortunately for the lads they were all able to swim, and they were rescued by a man who was in the boat, who took them to a dock. The boys were all rescued, but the boat was damaged.
